LAW ENFORCEMENT UNIONS BACK CIMINO

BRIDGETON - Third District State Senate candidate Mark Cimino has received the endorsement of a number of law enforcement unions.

Mark Cimino has been endorsed by the NJLESA, NJSOA and the NJSOA-CU which represent sergeants, lieutenants and captains in prisons, parole and other state law enforcement functions.

The Third District consists of all of Salem and parts of Cumberland and Gloucester counties. The endorsement is coveted since Cumberland County is the home to three state and one federal prison. "I am thrilled to receive these three endorsements which are an expression of confidence in my candidacy", stated Cimino.

"Cimino understands the dangerous situations that face our members on a daily basis. He has committed to our most important issues, including the protection of our pension and health benefits," indicated Steve Brzdek, President of the NJLESA, representing sergeants.

"Cimino recognizes the dangers we face in our jobs and is committed to ensuring our officers and their families are protected and taken care of," explained Jeffrey Smith, president of the NJSOA, which represents lieutenants.

"Cimino is clearly committed to protecting our pension system from politicians in Trenton who have set their eyes upon these funds," explained Scott Derby, president of the NJSOA-Captain's Unit.
